

Kyuyo SSH Activity Record 2023 (January)

English Presentation Workshop on SSH (OIST) (2023.1.18.Wed)

On January 18th, the seven groups of students who will be giving English presentations at the SSH Student Research Presentation at the Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University (OIST) attended an English Presentation Workshop. The groups were divided into two teams, each led by three researchers, who guided them through the practice sessions.

During the workshop, the students presented their research in English, utilizing the skills they had practiced beforehand, and received valuable advice and feedback from the researchers. Afterward, a time for interactive Q&A was provided, allowing the students to engage with the researchers and ask various questions.

To conclude the workshop, the students were taken on a tour of the OIST facilities by the staff, offering them a glimpse into the activities of scientific researchers. It was a fulfilling experience, providing the students with the opportunity to showcase their research in English and witness the work of scientific researchers at OIST firsthand.

"Kyuyo High School SSH Student Research Presentation" (2023.1.27.Fri)

The Kyuyo High School SSH Student Research Presentation showcased 8 oral presentations and 29 poster presentations. The students engaged in more lively discussions than in previous years, with a wide range of presentations from both the science and international English departments. Notably, there was active participation from Kyuyo Junior High School students as well, who also actively joined the discussions. These activities proved to be meaningful for the students' learning, promoting enriched scholarly exploration through the exchange of diverse perspectives.
